

30–31 January 2026

From San Francisco to Switzerland Translating global data into local practice

www.medtoday.ch

Hotel Uto Kulm Zurich, On-site

Dear colleagues

We are delighted to invite you to the upcoming edition of ASCO GI in the Mountains on 30–31 January 2026 at the Hotel Uto Kulm, Zurich.

As every year, we will bring the most relevant and practice-changing highlights from the ASCO Gastrointestinal Cancers Symposium in San Francisco directly to Switzerland. Together, we will review and discuss the data that truly matter for clinical practice and explore what these findings mean, or do not mean, for our daily work.

The program combines concise presentations, expert discussions and practical insights to translate global evidence into the Swiss context. We look forward to the collegial exchange and personal discussions during the dinner at the top of Zurich's Uetliberg.

Kind regards,
The Steering Committee

Dr. med. Daniel Helbling
Prof. Dr. med. Ulrich Güller
Prof. Dr. med. Dieter Köberle
